Requiem
Present, past, future... In his Requiem, Olivier Greif superimposes different period of times in two main ways. Even though his writing is decisively contemporary.

The screenshot shows the Donemus website interface. At the top right is the Donemus logo. Below it are navigation links: home, genres, composers, search, account, and cart. A language selection bar includes Nederlands, Español, Русский, 中国, Databanken, and logout. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column has a red heading 'explanation' followed by text: 'In this page you need to agree to the conditions of Donemus again, before you can complete your purchase. You can do this by entering the text i agree and clicking Order.' Below this is a red dashed line. The right column has a red heading 'agreement' followed by 'Covers works' and 'Agreement'. The text under 'Agreement' lists terms and conditions for 'Forgotten Lore : for harp solo / Henk Alkema, 2010', including delivery, rental, and download rules. Below the terms is a 'Confirmation' section with the instruction 'Please enter the text i agree'. A text input field contains 'i agree', which is circled in red. Below the input field are 'Cancel' and 'Order' buttons, with a red arrow pointing to the 'Order' button.
